Read output file from demo and output file from restructured canonical form filter into MATLAB.

Subtract two signals and find the maximum of absolute difference between them.